DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-23 are drawn to a cryptographic accelerator for performing key stream generation, classified in class 380, subclass 42.
 - II. Claims 24-45, are drawn to pipelined generation of a key stream using sequential addressing by combining address, classified in class 711, subclass 218.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions Group I and Group II are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention Group I has separate utility such as a cryptography accelerator for generating a stream cipher, the cryptography accelerator comprising: a key stream generation core for performing key stream generation operations; and a memory associated with the key stream generation core, the memory including a plurality of input ports configured to obtain write data associated with a stream cipher and a plurality of output ports configured to provide read data associated with the stream cipher, wherein the key stream generation core and the memory are operable for performing a plurality of read data operations and a plurality of write data operations associated with generating the stream cipher in a single cycle. In the instant case, invention Group II has separate utility such as a method for pipelined generation of a key stream byte, the method comprising: incrementing a first address during a first clock cycle; reading a first memory value at the first address, reading a second memory value at the second address obtained by adding the memory value at the first address to a previous second address, writing the first memory value to the second address and the second memory value to the first address, and summing the first and second memory values to yield a third address during a second clock cycle; and reading a third memory value at the third address during a third clock cycle. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. A telephone call was made to Stephen D. Burbach on 8/31/05 and 9/1/05 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

5. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Shewaye Gelagay whose telephone number is 571-272-4219. The examiner can normally be reached on 8:00 am to 5:30 pm.

Art Unit: 2133
